THE DEMOCRATS AND THE HOME-STEAD ACT.

A short time ago in speaking of the grand achievements of the Republican party, we stated that the Homestead Act was a Republican measure, that it was passed by Republican votes, and that it received the opposition of the Democratic party in Congress. A writer in the Beloit Graphic denies that the Republican party deserves the exclusive credit of originating the Homestead Act. To satisfy the Graphic writer that we were right in our statements, it seems we must refer to the records of Congress. In 1839-40 the question came up in the House of Representatives, of preventing the public lands from falling into the hands of speculators and monopolists. The Republican party was pledged to the measure of "land for the landless," while the Democratic party for years had advocated the selling of the public lands to monopolists and speculators. The Republican party in Congress attempted to pass the free homestead bill in 1853, 1859, and 1860, but they were opposed by the Democratic party. The record clearly discloses the fact that the Republican and the Democratic parties—one representing the interests of the free labor of the country, and the other the pretensions of the slave master of the South—came to a distinct issue upon the homestead bill. After two years of a hard struggle, the Republican party succeeded in carrying the bill through both houses in 1860, but on the 22d of June, 1860, James Buchanan vetoed the bill!

Thus defeated by the Democrats in the attempt to open the public domain to the laboring men, the Republicans were determined not to abandon the cause of "land for the landless." The policy of the Democratic party of dealing out the public lands to the speculators and to the slave holders was a curse to the nation, and the Republicans were pledged against it. The Republican State platforms all favored it, and the National Republican platform of 1860 said:

Resolved, That we protest against any sale or alienation to others of the public lands held by actual settlers, and against any view of the free homestead policy, which regards the settlers as paupers or supplicants for public bounty; and we demand the passage by Congress of the complete and satisfactory homestead measure, which has already passed the House.

When the Republicans came in possession of the Executive and both Houses of Congress, the Homestead bill was passed, and was promptly signed by President Lincoln. It granted 160 acres of land to every actual settler 21 years or more of age, or head of a family who is, or has declared his intention to become, a citizen. When the bill passed the House in February, 1862, there were 114 votes for it, and 18 against it. Of the votes for it ninety-two were Republican and only 22 were Democratic, while every vote against it came from the Democratic party. When it reached the Senate, the Democratic opposition to the bill became more significant than ever. The vote by which it passed the Senate was yeas, 33 to nays, 7. Who voted for the bill? Of the yeas, there were thirty Republicans, while all the votes against it were Democrats! But this is not all. In 1866 when the House passed the bill extending the provisions of the homestead act to the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Florida, all the opposition came from the Democratic party, while every Republican voted for it.

THE HOWARD ASSOCIATION.

This Association came after that eminent philanthropist and great Apostle of Humanity—John Howard, deserves all honor for his labors in caring for the sick and burying the dead in the yellow fever districts of the South. Without its agency, without its generosity, and without the self-denial, fortitude, and heroic courage of the physicians and nurses under its control, the appalling ravages by the yellow fever would have been multiplied. Of all the Associations in the United States, there is not one which so much deserves the praise of mankind as that which bears the name of a man who laid down his life for the prisoner and the sick. John Howard was born rich, but he visited all Europe, not to survey the sumptuousness of palaces, nor the statelyness of temples, not to be flattered by kings nor carressed by princes, but to dive into the depths of dungeons; to plunge into the infections of hospitals; to survey the hovels of sorrow and pain; to remember the forgotten and to care for the neglected; and to administer to the needy and to cheer the sorrowful. That is the mission of

The Yellow Fever Epidemic is Rapidly Filling Them in the Southern States.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—New cases, 169; deaths, 59.

Among the deaths are Sister Loretta McKee and Sister Mary Keenan, at the Charity Hospital. Both have been unremitting attendants on yellow fever patients. Very Rev. Rev. Joseph Millet, Vicar General of the archdiocese of New Orleans, is dangerously ill with the fever.

James Linton, Dr. Chopin's patient at the Charity Hospital, who was treated by the cold water process, died at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—9 p. m.—Ulysses F. Devilleux, a young French physician who was among the first to tender his services to the Howard Association, died yesterday of yellow fever after a few days' illness.

AT GRENADA.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 30.—Dr. Stone telegraphs the Howard Association from Grenada: "Major Anderson is doing fine. The weather is unfavorable. There has been a slight increase in the death rate, but no material spreading of the fever."

AT VICKSBURG.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Aug. 30.—One hundred and sixty new cases for the past twenty-four hours thirteen deaths from yellow fever and four from other diseases. Further generous contributions have been received from Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and other points. Liverpool also sends $1,000.

AT MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 30. 8 p. m.—At the Board of Health Office only 72 new cases have been reported for the 24 hours ending at 6 p. m. This, however, does not exhibit the true state of the epidemic for the day as several physicians failed to report. For the same time the undertakers report 57 interments.

Dr. Greenville Dowell, an experienced physician from Galveston, Texas, arrived this evening, and tendered his services to the Howard Association. The Association received to-day fourteen nurses from Shreveport, La., six from Marshall, Texas, and nine from Mobile, Ala.

AN Iowa paper says that a commercial traveler of Des Moines states that on his last trip he had the curiosity to learn the political status of the business men with whom he came in contact. In a list of 105 he discovered just eight Flatists. We presume the eight were about ready to go into bankruptcy.

The Boston Herald is a little cruel on Ben. Butler. It wants him to run for Governor of Massachusetts, for one reason that he will unite all the political monstrosities in the State into one body and give the people a chance to "put a head on it."

Charles D. Parker, of the Seventh District, says he wants greenbacks as good as gold, and thinks the Republican policy sound, but still he has the Congressional fever so badly that he made sure of his reaching Congress, he has taken two roads and rides on two platforms.

The Watertown Democrat comes out coldly for Congressman Williams, the Republican candidate in this district. Though Democratic in politics, it says that no Democrat should so far forget his duty as to vote for Charles H. Parker.

It is not often that we commend Democratic literature to our readers; but we publish to-day an article on the "Surrender," from the Watertown Democrat which every Republican should read—and Democrat, too.

"Political prostitution," is the term applied by the Madison Democrat to the action of the Democrats in the Seventh District. The term is quite appropriate.

The National Republican Committee has employed the Democratic party to work for the success of the Republican ticket this fall.

The song for which the Democrats sold out to the Greenbackers reads—"Lay me carefully away, my friends."

No inducements to fail in business after to-day.

BRIEFLETS.

—August has gone.
—The last day of summer.
—Oysters & billing the groceries.
—The thermometer and the weather will now have a fall.
—Fair prospects for the Fair. It promises to be a success in every way.
—Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hayner started north today for a few days stay.
—Mrs. E. B. Mowse left this city last evening for Monroe, Wis., on a two weeks visit.
—Rev. Mr. Himebaugh, Superintendent of the Bethel Home, in Milwaukee, spent last night in the city.
—There will be an All Souls church picnic at Grand Haven, Mich., near George J. Kellogg's, next Tuesday.
—The Janesville Veterans will meet tonight for the first drill in their new armory opposite the Edwards house.
—Nash and Wood the two fellows arrested for picking pockets on circus day, were today held for trial in the sum of $200 each.
—Dr. S. M. Mowse was presented yesterday with a valuable, ebony, gold-headed cane, by his friend, Dr. E. P. Cummings, of Grand Haven, Michigan.
—Dr. E. P. Cummings, a leading dentist at Grand Haven, Michigan, is spending a few days in this city. He and his family are the guests of his old time friend, Dr. A. M. Mowse.

—Edwin Clifford, the well known theatrical man, passed through the city today, stopping here but a few hours. His troupe are in Waukesha, and will go from there to Rockford.
—Entrances can be made for the coming Fair, until Monday night at the store of Cyrus Miner, and from and after Tuesday morning at the Secretary's office on the Fair Grounds.
—A team drawing a load of pickles from the factory, took a lively run this morning scattering cucumbers and vinegar along Terrace street, and causing some serious injuries to the wagon.

—St. Mary's church picnic next Wednesday promises to be an enjoyable one. The citizens will have a chance to hear the Monroe Cornet Band again as it has been engaged for the occasion.
—Professors Salisbury and Rockwood, of the Whitewater Normal School, are in the city today. They report that the term opened this week with very flattering prospects, and that everything promises a successful year.

—In the Sunday School Convention at Clinton Janesville was not very strongly represented numerically, there not being a superintendent from here present, and but few delegates. The city was however represented by one strong Sunday school worker, Mr. George J. Kellogg, who is the efficient secretary of the association.

—Mr. E. B. Mowse's familiar face has been gracing the office of the McLean Manufacturing Company this week, assisting Mr. W. D. Hastings, the Secretary. Mr. Mowse makes a faithful and valuable clerk in any office. Business is very brisk at the McLean Manufacturing Company's Monterey Mills.

—Mr. M. T. Lane, of Chicago, editor of the National Board of Trade, is in the city visiting his father-in-law, Colonel W. B. Britton. The National Board of Trade is the finest journal of its class in the West, and is made very successful by the intelligent, upright, and unflinching industry of Mr. Lane.

—The vacant store next to Charlie Conrad's grocery is being divided by a partition, and entirely refitted making two fine business places, one of which is to be occupied by Wiegand, the barber, and the other by George Shuttles, as a restaurant, he having bought out Riley. Mr. Riley will remain with Mr. Shuttles for the present. The new stores will be occupied the first of next week.

—A young man lately appeared in Beloit selling worm lozenges, and succeeded in so winning the confidence of the doting mothers of sickly children that he took about $40 out of the town. A little investigation showed that the lozenges were only common peppermint drops, which he had bought by the pound, and then put up in papers, selling them at two shillings a dozen. They of course have a very pleasant flavor, and children cry for them. Perhaps they will cure worms too, but these fond mothers who think of purchasing any such remedies would do well to buy them by the pound of some confectioner, or consult some physician, or buy medicine of some reliable druggist.

—The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 63 degrees above zero, and at 2 o'clock at 81 degrees above. Clear. One year ago today at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 75 and 85 degrees above.

—The indications today are, for the upper lake region, upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valley, warmer, clear or partly cloudy weather, winds mostly from south-east to south-westerly, stationary or lower pressure.

A MANGLED HAND.
A bad threshing machine accident occurred this morning on the McMaster farm, about four miles north of Janesville. A Ford du Lac man named Patrick O'Brien was at work around the threshing, when some of the straw caught fire near the gearing. In attempting to smother the flame he caught his hand between two cog wheels, and had two fingers taken off and the rest of the hand badly mutilated. He was brought to the city at once for treatment.

FIRING AT BURGLARS.
Between two and three o'clock yesterday morning J. B. Gordon, of Beloit, discovered a burglar just about entering his room through the window. When the burglar saw Mr. Gordon he started to run. As he did so Gordon fired a shot at him, and rushing to the window saw another burglar at whom he fired also. He then fired at the one he first saw. Both burglars returned a volley, but none of the bullets on either side did any injury so far as heard from.

HELPING THE NEEDY.

A Report of the Money Received for the Yellow Fever Sufferers.

The entertainment last evening for the benefit of the sufferers at the South proved a grand success. The character of the entertainment was excellent, and the audience was appreciative. The subscription papers have also been circulated with becoming diligence and the report of funds received from all sources up to time of going to press is as follows:

General Subscription.....$297.00
Gazette and Employees.....17.25
German School.....12.35
Tickets to Concert and dance.....190.00
Total.....$526.60

This amount will be increased by other subscriptions and monies not yet received. This is exclusive of the funds sent from the treasurers of the various secret societies. It is understood that some of the churches are to contribute also. The money will probably be sent away Monday, in care of the Howard Association for distribution.

HOW TO SEND MONEY SOUTH.

Contributions for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers are being raised promptly in all parts of the North, East, and West, and the question how to send the funds so raised, is an important one. Heretofore the telegraph companies have made money transfers to the fever districts, free of charge, but the transfers have multiplied so rapidly, that the companies can no longer make such transfers gratuitously. For the information of all persons or societies wishing to send funds to the sufferers, the following instructions have been telegraphed to various points from which contributions are to be sent:

"We can make no more money transfers, to the yellow fever points free of charge, but parties may make their own arrangements through bankers by telegraph, and the necessary monies to do this may be sent free. For example: Funds may be placed by any bank or banker, with a bank in New York, to the credit of the proper parties at the yellow fever points; then such New York bank can advise such parties of the amount of credit by telegraph. This would place the funds at their disposal at once through any bank or banks at the point desired."

SONNEBORN'S SURPRISE.

A. & F. Sonneborn, the well-known clothiers, have prepared a sort of surprise party for the public generally. They have just received a big stock of fresh goods and new styles for the fall trade, and if any one wants to be really surprised, let him take a look at these goods and see how low they are being sold. The Sonneborns do not propose to be outdone or undersold. Their present stock is a large and varied one, and embraces everything that any one needs in the line of gentlemen's furnishing goods, clothing, cloths, hats and caps. Their location is a central one, being on Main street, in the Myer's house block, and with their present display of goods, and low prices will doubtless find their trade increase still further. Give them a call.

BURR ROBBINS IN THE WEST.

A private letter from Burr Robbins gives the gratifying news that his show is meeting with marked success. His moves are from 25 to 30 miles a day, and he never has so large crowds as now, and the prospects are equally good. He says the people are all as well as usual, "except a little homesick occasionally to see old Rock county—the paradise of America." Mr. Robbins' route now is as follows:

September 2—Tennesh, Nebraska.

September 3—Pawnee City, Nebraska.

September 4—Seneca, Kansas.

September 5—Centralia, Kansas.

September 6—Waterloo, Kansas.

September 7—Washington, Kansas.

The following from the Sentinel at Crete:

Nebraska, shows how Mr. Robbins and his people stand there:

Mr. Robbins, the proprietor, is a genial, frank and business-like gentleman, who comes to amuse, please and instruct, and to give all their full money's worth, and if the numerous favorable remarks are any test, he certainly must succeed. The entire show was first-class, the performers artists of merit, and all, including the laborers and attendants, sober, polite and well-behaved people. Not a case of intoxication or boisterous conduct was witnessed during their stay here. A most remarkable feature observable was that there was no complaint of visitors losing money by sharpers, or gamblers, and the absence of all the usual pernicious features of the side shows and games of the unwary. The street parade was unusually good and the show itself all that could be asked, coming fully to the bills. Mr. Robbins was accompanied by his wife, a quiet, domestic unobtrusive lady. Her presence with the establishment was held a guarantee that the best of order would prevail, and certainly it is seldom a more quiet, orderly and well-disposed circus establishment makes its brief stay at any place.

THE BAND VISITING PECK.

The Janesville Cornet Band, which was in Milwaukee Thursday with the Knights of Pythias excursion, called at the Sun office in a solid body, under the leadership of E. O. Kimberly, an old newspaper man from Broadhead. It is a fine body of men and it is said they play like all get out.—Peck's Sun.

The Sun could not have been showing very bright, but it was enough light to enable the office to distinguish Kimberly from D. D. Bennett. The next time the Lower City Band visits Milwaukee Peck should go right up to the tallest man in the party, call him "Bennett" and apologize.—Janesville Herald.

Just how, and why, friend Peck should call us the leader of that excellent band, we are at a loss to know, and he, Peck, was entirely sober, too. It is all a mistake. The Bower City Band has a leader and director of their own. Mr. Wheeler has been their efficient leader for years. Mr. D. D. Bennett, appointed director of the Band last spring, is thoroughly competent
